Virtual Conversation with Harvey Gantt

The College of Arts + Architecture is honored to present a public virtual conversation with Harvey Gantt, FAIA, on September 16 at 5:30 p.m. Moderated by Dean Brook Muller, Mr. Gantt and four current College of Arts + Architecture students will discuss how Charlotte might become a model of an equitable, vibrant, inclusive city and the role of the arts and design in that future.

Harvey Gantt was the first African American student at Clemson University, where he graduated in 1965 with a degree in architecture. He received his master's degree in city planning from Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1970 and became founding partner of Gantt Huberman in Charlotte in 1971. Mr. Gantt served on the Charlotte City Council and in 1983 was elected the city's first Black mayor. In 2009 Charlotte's Afro-American Cultural Center was renamed the Harvey B. Gantt Center for African-American Arts + Culture in his honor. Details and Zoom link here.

Calls for Nominations

2020-2021 O. Max Gardner Award

Your assistance is requested for identifying potential faculty nominees for the 2020-2021 O. Max Gardner Award. This award is given annually by the UNC Board of Governors to “that member of the faculty of the University of North Carolina who, during the current scholastic year, has made the greatest contribution to the welfare of the human race.” Please note that nominees can be of any rank, “including instructors, engaged in teaching in any unit, institution or branch of service” in the University system. Past winners of the award include UNC Charlotte’s own Dr. Pinku Mukherjee and Dr. Diane M. Browder. Linked here is the UNC System announcement of last year’s winner, Dr. Samantha Meltzer-Brody of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. Please forward the names of nominees to the Nominations, Honors, and Awards Committee Assistant at before 5:00 p.m. on Wednesday, October 14, 2020. Include in your nomination the individual’s name, rank, and department/unit. Also, please provide a description of this individual’s specific contribution(s) or achievement(s), and their impact on others.

Harshini V. de Silva Graduate Mentor Award

Nominations will be accepted through November 6 for the 2021 Harshini V. de Silva Graduate Mentor Award. The award recognizes a full-time member of the graduate faculty who displays outstanding graduate mentoring. This award was established in memory of Dr. Harshini de Silva, an associate professor of biology, noted for her dedication to the academic and professional development of graduate students. Dr. Suzanne Leland, Department of Political Science and Public Administration, College of Liberal Arts & Sciences, was the recipient of the award for 2020. The award, which includes a crystal obelisk, a framed citation and a cash prize, will be presented in the spring semester at a ceremony and reception presided over by the Chancellor, the Dean of the Graduate School and University officers. Information on this year’s competition, nominating process and previous winners, can be found on the Graduate School website.

Thomas L. Reynolds Leadership Award

Nominations are sought for the 2020 Thomas L. Reynolds Leadership Award for a Graduate Program Director or Coordinator who exhibits excellent leadership and outstanding service. Graduate Program Directors and Coordinators are leadership positions for the University and play an important role in the success of graduate education. Dr. Lara Vetter, English, received the distinction for 2019. Nominations will be accepted through December 11 and may come from anyone. For more information or to nominate, please visit the Graduate School's Thomas L. Reynolds Leadership Award page.

Update on Notices for Borrowed/Overdue Items

Atkins has reinstated automated email notices to provide a reminder of borrowed and overdue items. While you may receive notification of fees and fines for these items, we will continue to extend due dates and waive fines as needed through the fall semester. If you are ready to return your items, you may bring them into the library or use any of the campus book drops for books and DVDs. If you have questions about your library account or materials you have borrowed, or would like to renew your materials, please contact Shelly Hypes or call the library at 704-687-0491.
